Notes to statistical tables

1. Changes to 2012-13 publication

In 2011-12 the student headcount data published in January was provisional, with the final headcount data published later in November, together with the examination results and degrees conferred and approved. From 2012-13 due to changes in our publication cycle the headcount statistics are published once only as the final set of data, with a separate publication of examination results and degrees conferred and approved following later in the year.

From 2012-13 students have the option of recording gender as 'Other'. Fewer than five students fall within this category and are excluded from all tables in this publication.

2. General

2.1. Student headcount data census date

All headcount data for matriculated students are as at 1 December 2012. This is the census date for the Higher Education Students Early Statistics Survey (HESES).

For non-matriculated students the data are based on the previous year's HESA reporting period. (The University makes an annual return to HESA (Higher Education Statistics Agency), which provides more detailed information on individual students and covers the period 1 August of one year to 31 July in the following year.) This is because many of these students attend courses that are of less than one year in duration and it is more accurate to present their data as a count over the course of one year, rather than as a snap shot at 1 December.

2.2. Coverage of the tables

The following groups of students are excluded from all of the tables:

- students who, at the census date, are on intermission;
- students aiming for a Ph.D. by Special Regulations;
- students who are entered for an examination only, i.e., are not attending a course;
- students reading the M.Res. in Photonic Systems Development who are registered students at University College London (the course is delivered jointly by Cambridge and UCL);
- students who reported their gender as 'Other'.

Most of the tables with the exception of the Headline statistics and All student headcount tables do not include students who are not required to matriculate, i.e. who are not members of a Cambridge College.

Matriculation marks the formal admission of a student to membership of the University. To qualify for matriculation, a student must have been admitted to a College and, unless a Graduate Student or an Affiliated Student, must satisfy the examination requirements for matriculation. Statue B, I, 1 (a)-(d) and Chapter II of Ordinances provide a list of persons qualified to matriculate.

Students on the following courses are not required to matriculate nor be admitted as a member of a Cambridge College:

- Certificate and diploma courses delivered by the Institute of Continuing Education;
- INSET (In-Service Education and Training) courses delivered by the Faculty of Education;
- Certificate in Theology for Ministry;
- Postgraduate Diploma in Entrepreneurship;
- Postgraduate Certificate in Sustainable Business.

2.3. Fee eligibility

Fee eligibility categories reported in the tables are as follows:

- Home – students with qualifying residence¹ in the UK;
- EU – students with qualifying residence in the EEA (comprises the 27 countries of the EU plus Iceland, Norway and Liechtenstein) or Switzerland;
- Islands – students with qualifying residence in the Isle of Man or the Channel Islands;
- Overseas – students who do not have qualifying residence in the categories above.

2.4. Mode of study

Students are classified as ‘full-time’ if they are undertaking a full-time course and are neither writing up nor under examination nor intermitting.

Students are classified as ‘part-time’ if they are undertaking a part-time course and are neither writing up nor under examination nor intermitting.

The ‘writing up/under examination’ category refers to postgraduate students who have completed the minimum requirements of their course but who have either not yet submitted their dissertation or have not yet had their degree approved. Such students are not required to be in attendance at the University.

2.5. Level of study

The headings ‘Undergraduate/Postgraduate’ in these tables are as defined by HEFCE and HESA. A complete list of courses designated ‘undergraduate’ or ‘postgraduate’ is shown in Appendix 1.

The headings ‘PGT/PGR’ in these tables are as defined by HEFCE and HESA. A complete list of courses designated as ‘taught’ or ‘research’ is shown in Appendix 2.

2.6. Current intake

Current intake for headcount tables is defined as students admitted to their course in the twelve months since the preceding 1 December census date. For postgraduate students this definition includes students admitted in the Lent, Easter and Michaelmas terms preceding the census date. However, in the time series tables the current intake is defined as students admitted to their course in September/October of the current academic year only.

3. Time series tables

3.1. Changes in definitions and census dates

Up to and including 1993–94, the definitions of UGC/UFC (the bodies that preceded HEFCE) have been used in cumulative tables; the figures were calculated at the UGC/UFC census date of 31 December. In and after 1994–95, HEFCE/HESA definitions have been used, and the baseline has been 1 December.

One of the areas affected by these changes in definition is categorisation of mode of study for postgraduate students. Up to and including 1993-94 postgraduate students were classified as 'not full-time' if they were:

- undertaking a part-time course;
- either writing up or under examination;
- intermitting their course of study;
- students holding established University posts;
- research assistants financed from Research Council grants or research contracts.

Between 1995-95 and 2005-06 postgraduate students were classified as 'not full-time' if they:

- were undertaking a part-time course;
- had completed the minimum requirements of their course and were not intermitting, i.e., they were either writing up or under examination.

Between 2006-07 and 2009-10 'not full-time' category was further divided into 'full-time writing up/under exam', 'part-time' and 'part-time writing up/under exam'.

From 2010-11 categories 'full-time writing up/under exam' and 'part-time writing up/under exam' have been combined into one category 'writing up/under exam'.

3.2. Temporal scope of time series tables

Most of the time series tables show data for the last twenty years only. For older data, please refer to previous publications or contact the Student Statistics Office (for contact details see 'Further information' below). However, for some of the tables it has not been possible to access data for the whole twenty-year period; therefore, for these tables the time series starts from the year in which a particular breakdown of the data became available.

3.3. Impact of European Union expansion on Home/Overseas student distribution

On 1 May 2004, the following countries were granted full EU membership: Cyprus, the Czech Republic, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, Poland, Slovakia, and Slovenia. In and after 2005–06, students from those countries are classified as Home/EU, not Overseas. On 1 January 2007, Bulgaria and Romania were granted full EU membership. Students from those countries are classified as Home/EU in and after 2007–08.

3.4 Impact of reclassification of postgraduate courses from 'research' to 'taught'

The following courses were reclassified from 'research' to 'taught' in January 2011:

- MPhil in Advanced Computer Science;
- MPhil in Economic Research;
- MPhil in Economics;
- MPhil in Innovation, Strategy and Organisation;
- MPhil in Management Science & Operations.

This reclassification leads to an increase in the number of postgraduate taught students and a corresponding decrease in the number of postgraduate research students in comparison with 2010-11 data.

4. All student headcount tables

4.1. Graduate and postgraduate students

Within the University of Cambridge, students enrolled on a postgraduate-level course are further divided on the basis of the student's course of study, whereby some students are registered as graduate students and others are not. Tables that present data by course of study reflect this division under the respective headings 'Graduate students' and 'Postgraduate students'.

4.2. Affiliated students and Cambridge graduates reading triposes

'Affiliated student' is defined as a person who, before matriculation in the University of Cambridge, has received or was qualified to receive a degree from another higher education institution, and, subject to approval, is able to complete an undergraduate degree in less than the normal time required. Students who already hold a Cambridge degree are thus excluded from this definition and are recorded as 'Cambridge graduates reading triposes'. These definitions are not used by HEFCE/HESA.

5. Undergraduate headcount tables

5.1. Categories of students included

The undergraduate tables include students aiming for the following qualifications:

- B.A., M.Eng., M.Math., M.Sci., B.Th. or Mus.B.;
- Clinical Medicine (M.B.);
- Clinical Veterinary Medicine (Vet.M.B.).

The undergraduate tables also include students reading Triposes who are not aiming for a qualification because they already hold a Cambridge degree that prevents them from being awarded a B.A. These students are described in the tables as 'Cambridge graduates reading Triposes' (see note 4.2).

The undergraduate headcount tables include outgoing exchange students (ERASMUS, MIT and NUS) and other students studying or working abroad as part of their course.

5.2. Categories of students excluded

Incoming exchange and other visiting students are excluded from most undergraduate headcount tables, with the exception of Tables UG_HC_01, UG_HC_02, UG_HC_03c, UG_HC_05c and UG_HC_10.

5.3. Pre-clinical medical and veterinary students

Pre-clinical medical and veterinary students read the Medical and Veterinary Sciences Tripos in years one and two, but read a different Tripos in year three. In all tables they are included under the respective headings 'Medicine (pre-clinical)' or 'Veterinary Medicine (pre-clinical)', irrespective of the Tripos examination for which they were entered in their final year with the exception of Tables UG_HC_03a and UG_HC_05a, which gives a breakdown of numbers by the actual Tripos read.

6. Postgraduate headcount tables

6.1. Categories of students included or excluded from these tables

The postgraduate tables include data for all matriculated students on postgraduate-level courses.

Incoming exchange and other visiting students are excluded from all postgraduate headcount tables with the exception of Table PG_HC_21.

Postgraduate students who have completed the minimum requirements of their course, i.e. are recorded as 'writing up/under exam', are reported in a single, separate category, regardless of whether their mode of study prior to writing up was full-time or part-time.

6.2. Doctorate and Master level courses

The level of study reported for postgraduate degrees is as follows:

- Doctorate level: Ph.D., Eng.D., Ed.D., M.D., probationary Ph.D. and C.P.G.S.
- Masters level: M.Litt., M.Sc., M.Phil., M.Res., M.St., M.Ed., M.B.A., Executive M.B.A., M.Fin., LL.M., M.C.L., M.A.St., M.Mus., P.G.C.E. and various postgraduate-level Diplomas.

All doctorate-level courses are research courses and are presented together in the same tables. Masters-level courses are presented in separate tables depending on whether the course is classified as 'research' or as 'taught' (see Appendix 2 for details).

Most students studying for a Ph.D. or Eng.D. qualification are required to complete a probationary year, and are initially registered either for the Certificate of Postgraduate Study (C.P.G.S.) or for a probationary Ph.D. For further information about routes to the Ph.D. see www.admin.cam.ac.uk/univ/gsprospectus/study/research/phd.html.

6.3. Faculties/departments

Most of the postgraduate headcount tables provide a breakdown by School and Faculty/Department.

The breakdown by Faculty/Department is on the basis of each course's record in CamSIS, the University's student record system, where all postgraduate courses are recorded as having only one owning Academic Organisation (Faculty, Department or Institution). Thus the breakdown does not necessarily reflect the departmental affiliation of students' supervisors.

The department/faculty list is based on the departmental structure at the census date of 1 December 2012.

7. Bio-demographic tables

7.1. Nationality

If a student holds more than one nationality, then the nationality given as the primary nationality is reported. This differs from the HESA definition.²

² HESA instructions on how to code dual nationality are as follows: 'If dual nationality including UK, code as United Kingdom. If dual nationality including non-UK EC country, then classify with relevant EC country code. If neither UK nor EC country, then classify by either nationality.'

Students whose nationality is recorded as the 'Isle of Man' or 'Channel Islands' are reported as UK nationals.

7.2. Domicile

Domicile is defined as the country of normal residence, i.e. the country of the student's permanent or home address prior to entry to the current programme of study. It does not necessarily equate with the definition of qualifying residence used to determine fee eligibility (see note 2.3.).

7.3. Ethnicity and disability

Ethnicity and disability data are as reported on the basis of the student's self-assessment.

Notes on Tables TS_01 and TS_01a:

- 1) Prior to 2006-07 the data for postgraduate students were divided into 'full-time' and 'not full-time' categories. As the definition of 'not full-time' students has always been wider than the definition of 'part-time' students (see note 3.1 (page 3) on the changes of definitions over time), it is not possible to present the data for part-time postgraduate students for the years before 2006-07.
- 2) Prior to 2010-11 direct entrants to the Certificate in Advanced Study in Mathematics (C.A.S.M.), an undergraduate-level qualification, were included in the undergraduate section of the Table TS_01. In 2010-11 C.A.S.M. was replaced with two new qualifications: the M.Math qualification for students continuing from the B.A. course on an integrated masters programme and the Master in Advanced Study (M.A.St.) qualification for direct entrants. From 2010-11 students studying for the M.Math are included in the undergraduate section, but students studying for the M.A.St. are included in the postgraduate section of the Table TS_01.
- 3) Postgraduate students writing up/under examination are excluded from these tables for all years.
- 4) Non-matriculated students are excluded from these tables for all years (see note 2.2 (page 1) for the definition of non-matriculated students).
- 5) Undergraduate and postgraduate incoming exchange and other visiting students are included in these tables for all years.
- 6) Affiliated undergraduate students and Cambridge graduates reading Triposes are included in these tables for all years.
- 7) In 2009-10 students reading the Diploma in Theology and Religious Studies (5 students) were included in the undergraduate student data, but in all other years the students on this course are included in the postgraduate section.

Notes on Tables TS_02 and TS_02a:

- 1) Prior to 2006-07 the data for postgraduate students were broken down into 'full-time' and 'not full-time' categories. As the definition of 'not full-time' students is wider than the definition of 'part-time' students (see note 3.1 (page 3) on the changes of definitions over time), it is not possible to present the data for part-time postgraduate students for the years before 2006-07.

In 2010-11 CASM was replaced with two new qualifications: the M.Math qualification for students continuing from the B.A. course on an integrated masters programme and the Master in Advanced Study (M.A.St.) qualification for direct entrants. From 2010-11 students studying for the M.Math are included in the undergraduate section, but students studying the M.A.St. are included in the postgraduate section of the Table TS_02.
- 3) For postgraduate students the current intake in these tables includes only the students who were admitted to their course in October of a given academic year and excludes the students who were admitted during the previous Lent and Easter Terms (193 full-time and 67 part-time postgraduates).
- 4) Postgraduate students writing up/under examination are excluded from these tables for all years.

- 8) In 2009-10 students reading the Diploma in Theology and Religious Studies (5 students) are included in the undergraduate student data, but in all other years the students on this course are included in the postgraduate section.

Notes on Tables TS_03 and TS_03a:

- 1) Prior to 2006-07 the data for postgraduate students were divided into 'full-time' and 'not full-time' categories. As the definition of 'not full-time' students has always been wider than the definition of 'part-time' students (see note 3.1 (page 3) on the changes of definitions over time), it is not possible to present the data for part-time postgraduate students for the years before 2006-07.
- 2) Prior to 2010-11 direct entrants to the Certificate in Advanced Study in Mathematics (C.A.S.M.), an undergraduate-level qualification, were included in the undergraduate section of the Table TS_03. In 2010-11 C.A.S.M. was replaced with two new qualifications: the M.Math qualification for students continuing from the B.A. course on an integrated masters programme and the Master in Advanced Study (M.A.St.) qualification for direct entrants. From 2010-11 students studying for the M.Math are included in the undergraduate section, but students studying the M.A.St. are included in the postgraduate section of the Table TS_03.
- 3) Please see note 3.3 (page 3) for details about changes in Home/Overseas distribution due to EU enlargement.
- 4) Postgraduate students writing up/under examination are excluded from these tables for all years.
- 5) Non-matriculated students are excluded from these tables for all years (see note 2.2 (page 1) for the definition of non-matriculated students).
- 6) Undergraduate and postgraduate incoming exchange and other visiting students are included in these tables for all years.
- 7) Affiliated undergraduate students and Cambridge graduates reading Triposes are included in these tables for all years.
- 8) In 2009-10 students reading the Diploma in Theology and Religious Studies (5 students) are included in the undergraduate student data, but in all other years the students on this course are included in the postgraduate section.

Notes on Tables TS_04, TS_04a and TS_4b:

- 1) Prior to 2006-07 the data for postgraduate students were broken down into 'full-time' and 'not full-time' categories. As the definition of 'not full-time' students is wider than the definition of 'part-time' students (see note 3.1 (page 3) on the changes of definitions over time), it is not possible to present the data separately for full-time and part-time postgraduate students for the years before 2006-07.
- 2) Prior to 2010-11 direct entrants to the Certificate in Advanced Study in Mathematics (C.A.S.M.), an undergraduate-level qualification, were included in the undergraduate section of the Table TS_04. In 2010-11 C.A.S.M. was replaced with two new qualifications: the M.Math qualification for students continuing from the B.A. course on an integrated masters programme and the Master in Advanced Study (M.A.St.) qualification for direct entrants. From 2010-11 students studying for the M.Math are included in the undergraduate section, but students studying the M.A.St. are included in the postgraduate section of the Table TS_04.
- 3) For postgraduate students the current intake in these tables includes only the students who were admitted to their course in October of a given academic year and excludes the students who were admitted during the previous Lent and Easter Terms (193 full-time and 67 part-time postgraduates).
- 4) Please see note 3.3 (page 3) for details about changes in Home/Overseas distribution due to EU enlargement.
- 5) Postgraduate students writing up/under examination are excluded from these tables for all years.
- 6) Non-matriculated students are excluded from these tables for all years (see note 2.2 (page 1) for the definition of non-matriculated students).
- 7) Undergraduate and postgraduate incoming exchange and other visiting students are included in these tables for all years.
- 8) Affiliated undergraduate students and Cambridge graduates reading Triposes are included in these tables for all years.
- 9) In 2009-10 students reading the Diploma in Theology and Religious Studies (5 students) are included in the undergraduate student data, but in all other years the students on this course are included in the postgraduate section.

Notes on Table ALL_HC_01:

* Data in the 'Writing up' column presents all postgraduate students who have completed the minimum requirements of their course and are either writing up or under exam regardless of their mode of study (full-time or part-time).

1) See Section 4 of the 'Notes to statistical tables' (page 4) for definitions of graduate vs. postgraduate students, affiliated students and Cambridge graduates reading triposes.

2) For non-matriculated students the data cover the HESA reporting period of 1 August 2011 to 31 July 2012. See note 2.2 (page 1) for definition of matriculated and non-matriculated students.

3) 'PGT' refers to graduate and postgraduate students on taught courses; 'PGR' refers to graduate and postgraduate students on research courses.

4) Students following part-time courses at the Cambridge Programme for Sustainability Leadership are excluded from this table.

Notes on Table UG_HC_07:

* Students admitted to read Chemical Engineering initially read either Engineering or Natural Sciences in their first year and proceed to read Chemical Engineering in subsequent years. They are recorded under the respective headings 'Chemical Engineering via Engineering' and 'Chemical Engineering via Natural Sciences'. Students who are not directly admitted to read Chemical Engineering, but later transfer from another Tripos or students who directly enter Part IIA of the Chemical Engineering Tripos (i.e. affiliated students or Cambridge graduates reading Triposes) are recorded under the heading 'Chemical Engineering'.

1) Incoming exchange and other visiting students are excluded from this table.

2) 'Year of study' relates to the number of years, excluding any periods of intermission, that a student has attended their current course from the time of admission and does not necessarily correspond to the year of the programme. For example, medical and veterinary students who have kept one to three terms since being admitted to the clinical part of their course are recorded as 'Year 1' even though they are on the fourth year of their programme.

Notes on Table PG_HC_09:

* Most students studying for a Ph.D. or Eng.D. qualification are required to complete a probationary year, and are initially registered either for the Certificate of Postgraduate Study (C.P.G.S.) or for a probationary Ph.D. (Prob.). This column shows the number of students on a probationary year for each faculty/department and is a subset of the 'Total' column.

1) Doctorate-level students include matriculated full-time and part-time students reading for the Eng.D., Ph.D., Ed.D., M.D., probationary Ph.D. and C.P.G.S.

2) Incoming exchange and other visiting postgraduate students are excluded from this table.

3) The 'Home/Islands' category includes 6 full-time students with Islands fee eligibility (2 students at Department of Chemistry and 1 student each at the Faculty of History, Department of Land Economy, Institute of Astronomy and Department of Psychology).

Notes on Table COL_HC_11:

1) Incoming exchange and other visiting students are excluded from this table.

2) Mature students are defined as students who were aged 21 or over at the time of admission.

3) Medical and veterinary students obtain a B.A. for the pre-clinical part of their course and are recorded as a new admission when they enrol on the clinical part of their course. Therefore for these students age at time of admission indicates the age when students started the clinical part of their course, not the age at the time of admission to their pre-clinical course. Thus the majority of medical and veterinary students starting the clinical part of their course will be defined as mature students.

4) The 'Previous degree' category in Table COL_HC_11 includes all affiliated students, Cambridge graduates reading triposes, medical and veterinary students on the clinical part of their course and students reading the Graduate Course in Medicine. It also includes students undertaking any other course who had already obtained a previous Higher Education degree at the time of admission to their course.

Notes on Table COL_HC_12:

1) Incoming exchange and other visiting students are excluded from this table.

2) Mature students are defined as students who were aged 21 or over at the time of admission.

3) Medical and veterinary students obtain a B.A. for the pre-clinical part of their course and are recorded as a new admission when they enrol on the clinical part of their course. Therefore for these students age at time of admission indicates the age when students started the clinical part of their course, not the age at the time of admission to their pre-clinical course. Thus the majority of medical and veterinary students starting the clinical part of their course will be defined as mature students.

4) The 'Previous degree' category in Table COL_HC_12 includes all affiliated students, Cambridge graduates reading triposes, medical and veterinary students on the clinical part of their course and students reading the Graduate Course in Medicine. It also includes students undertaking any other course who had already obtained a previous Higher Education degree at the time of admission to their course.

Notes on Table BIO_01:

* Denotes Commonwealth countries.

1) This table presents data for full-time students only.

2) Students whose nationality is recorded as the Isle of Man or Channel Islands are reported as UK nationals, on the grounds that they all hold a type of British nationality under British Nationality Law.

3) If a student holds more than one nationality, then the nationality given as the primary nationality is reported.

4) Of 15 students recorded under 'British National (Overseas)' category 13 have also have Hong Kong nationality, one has Chinese nationality and two have no other nationality reported.

Notes on Tables BIO_31 and BIO_32:

- 1) Medical and veterinary students obtain a B.A. for the pre-clinical part of their course and are recorded as a new admission when they enrol on the clinical part of their course. Therefore for these students age at time of admission shown in Tables BIO_31 and BIO_32 indicates the age when students started the clinical part of their course, not the age at the time of admission to their pre-clinical course.
- 2) The 'Previous degree' category in Tables BIO_31 and BIO_32 includes all affiliated students, Cambridge graduates reading triposes, medical and veterinary students on the clinical part of their course and students reading the Graduate Course in Medicine. It also includes students undertaking any other course who had already obtained a previous Higher Education degree at the time of admission to their course.
- 3) Incoming exchange and other visiting students are excluded from these tables.
